

HELPFUL COVID-19 INFORMATION AND RESOURCES FOR JUSTICE-INVOLVED PERSONS

Los Angeles County Superior Court:

- All Traffic Arraignments and Trials have been continued for at least 30 days and are not an essential function of the Court at this time. People should contact the Traffic Court Clerk of the Courthouse where there the arraignment or trial was set to get more information about their new court date. For more information, please see the Court's March 19, 2020 order, http://www.lacourt.org/newsmedia/uploads/142020318175723NR_Traffic_March_19_2020_FINAL.pdf
- The Court has ordered a 90-day continuance of any and all status reports and progress reports on open cases. Persons who have upcoming check-ins with the Court should contact the Court, their attorney or the Public Defender's office to confirm whether their court date is still on calendar and, or whether their appearance is required. See more information here: http://www.lacourt.org/newsmedia/uploads/142020323185249GO_March232020_FINAL.pdf
- The Court has ordered a 90-Day continuance of any and all Criminal Misdemeanor cases with out-of-custody defendants, unless otherwise statutorily required. Persons who unclear about the status of their case, should contact the Court, their attorney or the Public Defender's for more information. Los Angeles County Probation Department:

- L.A. County Probation offices are closed to the public.
- The Department will continue to maintain frequent contact with clients. Deputy Probation Officers are reaching out to their clients by phone, focusing on the highest-risk offenders. Probation is also asking clients to proactively reach out to their probation officer.
- Probation clients are asked to contact their Probation Officer directly.
- Probation Adult Alternative Work Services (PAAWS) and the Juvenile Alternative Work Services (JAWS) also known as the Work Crew Services Program has been temporarily suspended. Participants will be notified when program activity resumes.
- Visitation at juvenile halls and residential treatment facilities remains temporarily suspended. These visits include after-court, special and weekend visits by family members and/or community-based organizations.
- Youth in juvenile facilities have received extended phone privileges to maintain contact with family and loved ones and all internal programming within the facilities will continue.

- For general information call the Probation Information Center at 1-866-931-2222, or see the following press release: <https://probation.lacounty.gov/l-a-county-probation-department-closes-facilities-to-the-public/>
