

ZONE 0

UPDATED VENUE LOCATION

BOARD OF FORESTRY AND FIRE PROTECTION

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA ZONE 0 MEETING

Join us as the California Board of Forestry and Fire Protection's Zone 0 Regulatory Advisory Committee visits the Los Angeles region to listen, learn, and share more about its work to create a more wildfire resilient California. We expect an engaging meeting where seating and space may become limited. As we strive to provide a productive, comfortable, and accommodating forum for all participants, we ask that you RSVP if you plan to attend in person so that we can estimate participation and logistics.

We also recommend that those wishing to provide in-person comment arrive early as public comment will be heard in the order it is received. The meeting will also be streamed live and available online if you're unable to attend or arrive late, or should we reach seating and space capacity for in-person attendees. Please be advised that we will take public input from online participants if time allows. If you're unable to provide comment online during this hearing, additional opportunities will be provided at the following Monday, September 22nd Zone 0 Advisory Committee Meeting. We ask that you please plan accordingly and partner with us to ensure a safe, productive public meeting for participants and staff.
